Custom Curriculum on AccessEmergency Medicine

AccessEmergency Medicine's Custom Curriculum has cutting-edge functionality that enables program directors to create, track, and report usage of emergency medicine rotations online. With the Custom Curriculum, emergency medicine programs are free to build a resource that matches their unique needs mapping AccessEmergency Medicine content and capabilities to their educational structure.

Program directors can:

- Create an activity and topic
- Select related reference content, videos, and animations from AccessEmergency Medicine
- Assign board review quizzes; customize the number of questions and set the passing grade
- Link out to references or other web-based resources
- Schedule grand rounds, lectures, or other offline activities
- Download and save usage reports organized by resident or by rotation

As an alternative to creating rotations from scratch, program directors can choose to modify existing rotations in the AccessEmergency Medicine Library for other programs to view and adopt.

For residents, the Custom Curriculum provides a powerful educational tool. When they log on, the residents view the available rotations from their program director, as well as their own individual progress by rotation.

To learn more about implementing the Custom Curriculum at your institution, please contact Tony Aiello, Online Editor, at anthony_aiello@mcgraw-hill.com.

Sorular ve Cevaplar

The screenshot displays the AccessEmergency Medicine website interface. The main window shows a self-assessment question titled "Emergency Medicine Examination & Board Review". The question is "QUESTION 1 of 8" and asks to choose the "one best" response to a question about the least informative diagnostic test pairs for a condition. The options are:

- A. Abdominal aortic aneurysm and computed tomography.
- B. Renal colic and intravenous pyelogram.
- C. Cholelithiasis and right upper quadrant ultrasound.
- D. Small bowel obstruction and abdominal plain films.

A red "submit" button is located below the options. The website header includes "ACCESS Emergency Medicine from McGraw-Hill" and navigation links like "Home", "Textbooks", and "Custom Curric". The left sidebar lists various medical topics with question counts, such as "Abuse and A", "Analgesia", "Cardiovasc", "Disorders", "Emergency V", "Endocrinol", "Environmen", "Eye, Ear, N", "Gastroente", "Gynecologic and Obstetric Emergencies", "Hematologic and Oncologic Emergencies", and "Imaging".

A callout box with a black border and white background is positioned over the question, containing the text: "Profilinizi yarattıktan sonra soruları görebilirsiniz." (You can see the questions after you have created your profile.)

CORD Cases

Recorded at the 2008 and 2009 Council of Emergency Medicine Residency Directors (CORD) Clinical Pathological Case (CPC) conferences, these selected cases are teaching tools that illustrate the deliberation necessary to reach a correct diagnosis. Cases focus on uncommon presentations of common diagnoses and common presentations of uncommon diagnoses. The CORD case format consists of a presenter who introduces the case (and later confirms diagnosis), and a discussant who attempts to solve the case based on the information of the differential diagnosis. The downloadable cases are optimized for mp4 devices. They can also be viewed from your desktop. Presented by the Council of Emergency Medicine Residency Directors. Due to lack of images will not be shown.
